

T20 | tepav

Participant Biographies

T20 Turkey Launch

10-11 February 2015

İstanbul

Amar Bhattacharya

Amar Bhattacharya is Senior Fellow at the Global Economy and Development Program at Brookings Institution. His focus areas are the global economy, development finance, global governance, and the links between climate and development.

From April 2007 until September 2014 he was Director of the Group of 24, an intergovernmental group of developing country Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors. In that capacity he led the work program of the Group, supported the deliberations of the Ministers, and was the principal point of interface with other organizations including the G20. He has therefore been an active participant in the global economic discussions and a key representative of the views of developing countries.

Prior to taking up his position with the G24, Mr. Bhattacharya had a long-standing career in the World Bank. His last position was as Senior Advisor and Head of the International Policy and Partnership Group. In this capacity, he was the focal point for the Bank's engagement with key international groupings and institutions such as the G7/G8, G20, IMF, OECD and the Commonwealth Secretariat.

Through these different positions Mr. Bhattacharya has had a long standing engagement in research and policy discussions on the global economy and spillovers, international financial architecture, development financing and the global governance agenda including on the role and reform of the international financial institutions. He completed his undergraduate studies at the University of Delhi and Brandeis University and his graduate education at Princeton University.

Andriano Jose Timossi

Mr. Andriano Jose Timossi is a Senior Programme Officer at the South Centre. He has a Bachelor degree in Agricultural Science in Brazil and a Master's Degree in European Studies, in Italy. He works on UN multilateral agenda, in particular, on development and human rights issues, South-South Cooperation and outreach, communications, strategic planning and partnership activities of the South Centre. Previously, he worked for UN agencies on socio-economic and development issues including the United Nations Office of the High Commissioner on Human Rights (OHCHR) at the Right to Development Section, including on unilateral coercive measures and as assistant to the Human Rights Council mandate holder on International Solidarity. He also worked for the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD) on different divisions, including the Unit on Economic Cooperation and Integration among Developing Countries at the Office of the Secretary General of UNCTAD. Previously to the UN he also worked and trained in several organizations including Oxfam, European Commission, Scottish Parliament and Swiss Development Cooperation Agency. Most recent academic experiences includes London School of Economics (LSE) and Political Science and Peking University course China's foreign relations with East Asia in Beijing, China; LSE-Cape Town University course on Africa in Cape Town, South Africa; Research Information System for Developing Countries (RIS) course on Global Transformation: The rise of emerging powers and a new international order and International Economic Issues and Development Policy (IEIDP) in New Delhi, India and Contemporary Issues on International Relations at the Universidade de São Paulo (USP) in Brazil. His areas of interest include BRICS, G20, South-South Cooperation, Regional Integration, UN Development and Human Rights pillar, and Sustainable Development agenda.

Ambassador Andrés Rozental

Andrés Rozental was a career Mexican diplomat for more than 35 years, having served his country as Deputy Foreign Minister (1988-1994), Ambassador to Sweden (1983-88), Permanent Representative of México to the United Nations in Geneva (1982-83) and Ambassador to the United Kingdom, (1995-1997) as well as in various responsibilities within the Mexican Foreign Ministry and abroad. Since 1994, he holds the lifetime rank of Eminent Ambassador of México.

Currently retired from public service, Ambassador Rozental holds non-executive Board positions in several important multinational companies in Brazil and México. He chairs the Board of ArcelorMittal Mexico and is an independent Board member of ArcelorMittal Brazil, Ocean Wilson Holdings and Wilson Sons (Brazil) and HSBC Bank in Mexico. He has held advisory positions with Airbus, Toyota and Kansas City Southern de México.

He is President of his own consulting firm, Rozental & Asociados, which specializes in advising multinational companies on their corporate strategies in Latin America. He is also active in a number of non-governmental organizations and projects relating to global governance, migration policy, climate change, Latin American politics and the promotion of democracy. He is a Senior Nonresident Fellow at the Brookings Institution, a Senior Policy Advisor at Chatham House in London, a Trustee of the Migration Policy Institute in Washington and sits on the Operating Board of Canada's Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI) in Waterloo.

Ambassador Rozental was the Founding President of the Mexican Council on Foreign Relations (Comexi) and is currently a member ex officio of its governing body.

Ambassador Rozental obtained his professional degree in international relations from the Universidad de las Américas in México, and his Master's in International Economics from the University of Pennsylvania. He is the author of four books on Mexican foreign policy and of numerous chapters and articles in edited volumes on international affairs, diplomacy, US-Mexico relations, among others. He is a regular contributor to print, radio and television media in Mexico, the United States and Europe.

Antonio Villafranca

Antonio Villafranca is Senior Research Fellow and Head of the Europe Programme at ISPI. He teaches International Relations at the Bocconi University and European Policies at the IULM University. At ISPI, he is currently in charge of 2 research projects - Green and Rastanews - funded by the European Commission under the VII Framework Programme. In network with the London School of Economics he coordinates a project providing analyses and advice on international trade to the European Parliament. He is also non-resident senior fellow at the Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies (RDCY, Renmin University, Beijing).

In 2011, he took part in the “International Visitor Leadership Program” of the US State Department. He has extensively published on EU policies and European/global economic governance.

Dr. Astrid Skala-Kuhmann

Dr Astrid Skala-Kuhmann is a lawyer in senior-management position with many years' experience in emerging markets. Since 2011 she serves as director of the department global partnerships/emerging economies in the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH, reporting directly to the board.

She has in-depth knowledge of and experience in global-governance issues and long-term experience in Asia, mainly the P.R. China, where she served as the GIZ's chief resident representative from 2005 to 2011.

She holds a Ph.D. in international environmental law from the University of Göttingen. She began her career as an attorney-at-law with the international law firm White & Case (formerly Feddersen & Laule) Frankfurt, then joined the GIZ, worked as legal advisor in Indonesia and headed the division for Indonesia, Malaysia and Singapore for several years. In the course of her career she has also served as an advisor to German Federal Ministry of Agriculture (BMEL), United Nations Development Program (UNDP) and other international organizations.

Barry Carin

Barry Carin is a Senior Fellow at the Centre for International Governance Innovation and Adjunct Professor of Public Administration at the University of Victoria.” He served as High Commissioner of Canada to Singapore, Assistant Deputy Minister of Trade and Economics in the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, and as G8 Sous- Sherpa. He held several other assistant deputy minister positions in the federal government. He was also Director of Effectiveness Evaluation in the Treasury Board Secretariat. From 2000 to 2010 he was Associate director of the Centre for Global Studies at the University of Victoria. From 2006 to 2009 he was editor of the journal “Global Governance He has a PhD in Economics from Brown University.

Berrin Benli

Berrin is the Co-Founder of “NOVUSENS” Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute” which is the first “Think Tank” organization in Turkey in Science, Technology and Innovation space as an independent and for-profit type that delivers professional services to foster “Sustainable Development”. She established “Big Data Institute” on Sept, 2013 and “Smart City Institute” Feb. 2014 at NOVUSENS in ICT Innovation field.

She has more than 30 years of business experience in ICT industry at both local and global levels carrying both business and technical management roles in the fast pace MNCs (like Oracle Corp, Intel Corp.) and local giant system integrators and enterprises. During her 12 years of tenure with Oracle Corporation, she held various executive management roles both at regional levels (Europe, Middle East & Africa) covering 35 countries, and global levels (US, EMEA, APAC). She was recognized as the ‘Best Country Support Services Director’ among 35 countries of Oracle EMEA Support Services Division, received the prestigious ‘Best Country’ of the year awards under the categories of ‘Customer Satisfaction’, ‘Employee Satisfaction’, ‘Business Performance’ for many years. In year 2000, she was recognized by the Turkish IT media as the first international woman executive of Turkey-appointed by e-Europe Middle East Africa Region in IT Business Industry.

She has BSc degree of Computer Engineering from Middle East Technical University in 1986; student of University of Phoenix, Arizona (Exec.MBA, Global Management Program) in 2005.

Bozkurt Aran

Bozkurt Aran graduated from Ankara University Faculty of Political Sciences in 1971 and started to work at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs as the Third Secretary at the Department of Eastern Europe in 1973. Aran served as Vice Consul at Salzburg Consulate General; First Secretary at the Kuala Lumpur Embassy; and as Economic Counselor at the Washington Embassy. He was appointed the Consul General of the Republic of Turkey at Dusseldorf, Germany (1989-1993); Ambassador to Pakistan (1998-2000); Permanent Representative at UNESCO-Paris (2002-2004); and Ambassador to Islamic Republic of Iran (2004-2006). He also served as the Permanent Representative of Turkey to the World Trade Organization (WTO), Geneva (2007-2012).

In addition to fulfilling the expected functions at the WTO, Aran chaired the Trade Policy Board, the Committee of Trade and Environment, and the Accession Working Committee of Belorussia; and was a member of the Management Board of the Advisory Centre on WTO Law (ACWL).

After serving as the Deputy Director General for Bilateral Relations for European Countries at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Turkey (1993-1998), he worked as the Directorate General for Bilateral Economic Affairs (2000-2002) and Director General for Middle East (2006-2008).

Bozkurt Aran is the director of the TEPAV Center for Multilateral Trade Studies established in August 2012. He is member of The Bretton Woods Committee.

Caner Bakır

Caner Bakır is Associate Professor of Political Science, with a special focus on International and Comparative Political Economy, and Public Policy and Administration at Koc University, Istanbul. He received his PhD in Political Science from Monash University in Melbourne. He is Co-director of Center for Globalisation, Peace and Democratic Governance (GLODEM). He is the Associate Editor of Policy Sciences. His work relates to political economy and public policy with special emphasis on comparative institutional analysis and policy change. His research interests include varieties of national financial systems, the political economy of central banking, financial regulation and governance, state and international business relations, Turkish multinationals and macroeconomic bureaucracies. He has published articles in leading journals such as Governance, Public Administration, Development and Change, and New Political Economy. He is the author of Bank Behaviour and Resilience: Effect of Structures, Institutions and Agents (Palgrave MacMillan 2013), Merkezdeki Banka [Bank in the Centre] (Bilgi University Press 2007), and (with Louis Brennan) of Emerging Market Multinationals in Europe (Routledge forthcoming). He is the recipient of The 2010 Scientific and Technological Research Council of Turkey (TUBITAK) Incentive Award, and TUBITAK Early Career Award in 2008. He has been the principal investigator of various TUBITAK funded projects and his recent research has been linked with Cooperation on Science and Technology (COST) project entitled 'The Emergence of Southern Multinationals and their Impact on Europe' (ISCH COST Action IS0905).

Cengiz Cihan

Cengiz graduated at the Middle East Technical University Statistics Department in 1997 and obtained double major in Economics. He has M.Sc. in Economics from the same university in 2002. He received Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Sydney in 2006. He also teaches “Science, Technology and Innovation Economics” lecture in Economics Department of Başkent University.

Before joining UNDP Turkey, he had worked in State Planning Organization as a planning assistant expert and planning expert between 1997 and 2006. In 2006, he moved to the Research Department of Central Bank of Turkey as an Economist. In 2009, he joined to the OECD Statistics Directorate for an international project for one year. During 2011-2013 periods, he worked as an Advisor to the Economy Minister. He was responsible from the Monetary Policy issues as well as real sector developments and long term development strategies for the Turkish manufacturing industry sectors. He can speak English and has lower intermediate French level beside his native language Turkish. He is married and has two children.

Cengiz Ultav

Born 26-02-1950 Eskişehir, Turkey. BSc and MSc in Electrical Engineering (Computer and Control Option) from Middle East Technical University in Ankara Turkey. Diploma from Philips International Institute in Eindhoven Holland. Held technical and administrative responsibilities at Bimsa and Info in Turkey and Dornier System GmbH in Germany. Worked as Assistant General Manager at NCR Turkey and as General Manager at Sun Microsystemler Turkey.

During the same period provided consultancy to such major groups as Koç, Sabancı, Eczacıbaşı. Since 1995 served as a Member of Executive Committee of Vestel responsible for Strategic Planning, and Investor Relations, currently a board member..

Provided consultancy to UNDP in Vietnam to study development of electronic industry. Founding and board member of Turkish Informatics Society and Turkish Unix Users Group. Certificated consultant for Microsoft Solution Development Discipline. He has the 2005 reward of lifelong service from TÜBİSAD.

Dr. Cengizhan ÖZTÜRK

Dr. Ozturk received his M.D. from Marmara School of Medicine, Istanbul, in 1990. He proceeded with a Specialization in Physiology from Cerrahpasa Medical Faculty, Istanbul University, in 1994 and finally with a Ph.D. at the School of Biomedical Engineering, Science and Health Systems, Drexel University, Philadelphia, in 1997. During 1997-2000, he worked as a postdoctoral research fellow at Medical Imaging Lab, Department of Biomedical Engineering, Johns Hopkins University, supervised by Dr. Elliot McVeigh. At JHU, his research focus switched to MRI. Since September 2000, he is working as a faculty member at the Institute of Biomedical Engineering (BME), Bogazici University, Istanbul. He established Bogazici University Medical Imaging Laboratory (BU-MIL), where on average 15-20 graduate-level BME students at any given time perform their research on a wide-gamut of medical imaging topics. Dr. Ozturk managed to hold a parallel visiting research scientist position at Cardiac Interventions Program, NHLBI, NIH, for five years (2002-2008). His research at NHLBI focused on real-time MRI, XMR fusion and MR-guided medical interventions.

Between 2008-2013, Dr. Ozturk coordinated a university-wide effort to establish a multidisciplinary research center focused on life sciences and health technologies, funded by the Turkish Ministry of Development. The Center for Life Sciences and Technologies of Bogaziçi University is now supported by over 60 faculty members distributed among 11 academic departments/institutes. It is currently in its rollout phase of several important national research infrastructures: 1) Microsystem Based in vivo Device Development Laboratory with a dual-purpose clean room that combines MEMS capability with medical plastic/metal processing for development of novel interventional devices and sensors, 2) Small Animal Research Center (Vivarium) with transgenic capabilities, 3) Smart Drugs Laboratory with a focus on nanoparticles and implantable medical device surface preparations.

Since 2011, Dr. Ozturk is also coordinating the Istanbul Cooperation Platform for Life Sciences and Technologies (Inovita), funded by Istanbul Development Agency. Main focus of Inovita is to create an environment to foster translational research and entrepreneurial activities in health technologies. Currently, Inovita is establishing a small model incubator/accelerator with a strong mentorship focus for early health tech startups at Bogazici University. It is also contributing to many other incubator efforts on life sciences and to other biotechnological infrastructure development projects regionally. Dr. Ozturk coordinates the establishment of reference labs and common production facilities at Teknopark Istanbul for a larger health technology industrial cluster. ISEK (Istanbul Health Industry Cluster, Istanbul Sağlık Endüstrisi Kümelenmesi) formally established at the beginning of 2014 with over 90 members.

Dan Xiao

Xiao Dan, Program Coordinator of International Office, Renmin University of China. Studied History and Politics of Modern China in Renmin University since the year of 2006 the 2012 and got bachelor and master degree.

Daniel Taras

Daniel Taras is the Executive Director of the Economic Policy Forum (EPF) – Think Tank Alliance for High Quality Growth. He is also Head of Section, Global Programmes within the German International Cooperation Agency's (GIZ) Global Partnerships and Emerging Economies Division and Director of GIZ's Emerging Market Sustainability Dialogues Programme. Prior to his current role he worked as an advisor on corporate social responsibility in China and on private sector development in Laos. He started his career as a strategic management consultant, investment banking analyst and financial sector economist in London, UK. Daniel studied economics, finance and Chinese economy and management at the London School of Economics (LSE), Cambridge University, the School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS), and Peking University. He is also an alumnus of the German Development Institute.

Domenico Lombardi

Domenico Lombardi is director of CIGI's Global Economy program, overseeing the research direction of the program and related activities. He also serves as Chair of The Oxford Institute for Economic Policy and sits on the advisory boards of the Bretton Woods Committee in Washington, the G20 Research Group and the G8 Research Group at the University of Toronto, and the Istituto Affari Internazionali in Rome. Mr. Lombardi is a member of the Financial Times Forum of Economists and editor of the World Economics Journal.

In 2011, he served as the rapporteur for the High-Level Panel on the Governance of the Financial Stability Board. A year earlier, he was appointed by the World Bank Group's Board of Directors as the External Reviewer to conduct the first independent review of the Group's Oversight and Accountability Units. In 2009, Mr. Lombardi authored the report to the IMF Managing Director on IMF Governance Reform ("Fourth Pillar Report"). Prior to that, Mr. Lombardi's distinguished career includes positions on the executive boards of major international financial institutions such as the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

His academic interests focus on the global economy and currencies, global governance, the G20, the G8, and the reform of the international financial and monetary system. His research has been published in peer-reviewed journals and has been referred to in Congressional and Parliamentary hearings around the world. He has testified before the U.S. Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs and the Subcommittee on Security and International Trade and Finance. Mr. Lombardi has an undergraduate degree summa cum laude in Banking and Finance from Bocconi University, Milan, and a Ph.D. in economics from Oxford University (Nuffield College).

Dorothee Schmid

Head of the Program on Contemporary Turkey

Institut français des relations internationales (French Institute of International Relations, Ifri), Paris, France.

A graduate of Sciences Po Paris with a doctorate in political science from the University of Paris II Panthéon-Assas, Dorothee Schmid joined Ifri in 2002 to study European policies in the Mediterranean and the Middle East as well as French policy in the Arab world. In 2008, she founded the Program on Contemporary Turkey, which she currently heads. Before dedicating herself to research, Dorothee Schmid worked as an analyst of country-risk at Crédit agricole Indosuez then as the leader of the Euromed mission for Cités Unies France, a federation of local French authorities working on the international stage. She has led numerous consulting missions for various public institutions (the European Commission, the French Ministry of the Economy, the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs), NGOs, and businesses. The Program on Contemporary Turkey at Ifri focuses on the political and economic developments in Turkey, the hazards of the negotiations for admission to the European Union, and Turkey's new diplomatic ambitions. The Program currently contributes to the development of the bilateral debate between France and Turkey.

Dorothee Schmid's other interests include the political economy of the Middle East as well as the political transitions and the relationship among powers in the region.

Bibliographical Elements

Dorothee Schmid regularly contributes to French and international media outlets. She is the author of many articles about Turkey and the Middle East (latest publications: « Allemagne-France-Turquie : la triangulation des puissances » Note franco-turque n°9, Ifri, juin 2013; « La Turquie dans l'impasse syrienne », Politique internationale n°141, Automne 2013).

She has also published, in cooperation with the Turkish think-tank EDAM, two important reports on Franco-Turkish relations (The Franco-Turkish Relationship in turmoil, 2007, and Les élites françaises et la Turquie : une relation dans l'attente, 2010) and she was head of the work La Turquie au Moyen-Orient : le retour d'une puissance régionale ? (Presses du CNRS, 2011). She is currently preparing a book titled La nouvelle dynamique kurde, in collaboration with the Institut du Monde arabe.

Elena Lazarou

Elena Lazarou is Assistant Professor of International Relations at the School of Social Sciences (CPDOC) of the Getulio Vargas Foundation (FGV) and formerly Head of FGV's Center for International Relations (2013-2014). Dr. Lazarou received a Ph.D. in International Relations from the University of Cambridge in 2008. She has held post-doctoral research positions at the University of Cambridge and the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). Her current research focuses on the impact of the crisis of the Euro on the EU's relations with Latin America and on the role of think tanks in foreign policy. She is also affiliated to the Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) and Visiting Professor at Sciences-Po Grenoble and LUISS University, Rome. She has published several articles, edited volumes and book chapters in English, Greek and Portuguese and is a regular contributor to the Brazilian press. Her latest publications are "Multilateralismo nas Relações Internacionais" (Sao Paulo: Elsevier, 2014) and "Think Tanks and the Foreign Policy Challenges Facing the Emerging Powers" with J.McGann (Philadelphia: Penn University Press, forthcoming 2015).

Gary Clyde Hufbauer

Gary Clyde Hufbauer has been the Reginald Jones Senior Fellow at the Peterson Institute for International Economics since 1992. He was on leave as the Maurice R. Greenberg Chair and Director of Studies at the Council on Foreign Relations (1996-98), and he formerly held positions as Marcus Wallenberg Professor of International Finance Diplomacy at Georgetown University (1985-92), deputy director of the International Law Institute at Georgetown University (1979-81); deputy assistant secretary for international trade and investment policy of the US Treasury (1977-79); and director of the international tax staff at the Treasury (1974-76). Dr. Hufbauer holds an A.B. from Harvard College, a Ph.D. in economics from King College at Cambridge University, and a J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center. He has written extensively on international trade, investment, and tax issues.

Guillermo Wierzba

He graduated in Economics at the University of Buenos Aires (UBA) with Posgraduate studies in Economics at the Instituto Torcuato Di Tella. (Argentina). He serves as Director of CE-FID-AR (Centre for Economics and Finance for the Development of Argentina) since 2004. He is Professor of “Economic Power and Human Rights” at the UBA’s Faculty of Economics since 2004. He was Professor of Microeconomics at the same university. He served as financial and planning manager in Cooperative Banks. He was an advisor on financial matters of the Superintendent of Insurance of Argentina. He was director of MiPyme (Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises) Program, funded by the IDB (Interamerican Development Bank) deployed by the Ministry of Economy and Production of Argentina.

Among his Working Papers we can mention:

“La Regulación Bancaria en Argentina durante la década del 90” (“The Banking Regulation in Argentina during the 90s”) co-authored with Jorge Golla.

“Nuevas Arquitecturas Financieras Regionales. Su institucionalidad y características” (“New Regional Financial Architectures. Their institutionalidad and features”).)

“La regulación financiera Basilea II. La crisis y los desafíos para un cambio de paradigma” (“Financial regulation, Basel II. The crisis and the challenges facing a shift of paradigm”) coauthored with Estela del Pino, Romina Kupelian and Rodrigo Lopez.

“América Latina: expansión, crisis y después. Un estudio de caso sobre la política contracíclica en Argentina” (“Latin America: expansion, crisis and after. A case study on countercyclical policy in Argentina”) co-authored with Pablo Mareso.

“La regulación de la Banca en Argentina (1810-2010). Debates, lecciones y propuestas” (“Regulation of Banking in Argentina (1810-2010). Debates, lessons and proposals”) coauthored with Rodrigo Lopez.

“La Unidad y la Integración en América Latina: su historia, el presente y un enfoque sobre una oportunidad inédita” (“Unity and Integration in Latin America: its history, present and focus on an unprecedented opportunity”). Co-authored with Jorge Marchini, Romina Kupelian and María Andrea Urturi.

Güven Sak

Güven Sak is the managing director of the Economic Policy Research Foundation of Turkey (TEPAV) and vice-president of the TOBB University of Economics and Technology. He holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the Middle East Technical University and an M.A. from the University of East Anglia. Sak was a founding member of the Monetary Policy Council of the Central Bank of Turkey, where he served as an external member between 2001 and 2005. He has held prominent positions in the Turkish social security reform projects in 1995 and 1999, and was among the leaders of the Turkish capital market modernization project in 1991-92. Professor Sak was a member of the Faculty of Political Sciences at Ankara University until 2006, where he taught banking, international finance, and public economics. Sak currently writes on economic issues for the Hurriyet Daily News, Radikal and Dünya.

Hakan Mehmetcik

Hakan Mehmetcik is a research assistant in the department of Politics and International Relations at Isik University where he has been a faculty member since 2012. He has one M.A. in economics from Dalarna University, and one M.S. degree in Eurasian Studies from Uppsala University. He continues his Ph.D. at the department of International Relations, Yildiz Technical University. His research interests lie in the area of International Relations, Political Economy, and democratization and development studies.

Haldun Yavaş

Secretary General of Caspian Strategy Institute (HASSEN)

Haldun Yavaş graduated from Kültür College and received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Marmara, Department of Chemistry, Istanbul.

He earned Master's Degree in Science Education from Dowling College in New York. He also completed Harvard Kennedy School Executive Education Program of Strategic Management for Leaders of Non-Governmental Organizations.

Mr. Yavaş is the owner of Hazar World, Journal of Caspian Affairs and Caspian Report journals. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of "GLOBAL-Turk" journal, the monthly publication of Turkic Academy.

He is an active member of international non-governmental organizations such as Clinton Global Initiative, a non-partisan organization that convenes global leaders to devise and implement innovative solutions to the world's most pressing problems. He is also a member of Chatham House, the second most influential think tank throughout the world.

He has been the chair of "Caspian Forum 2012" held in Istanbul, Four Seasons Hotel on December 5-6, 2012; "Caspian Forum New York 2013" held in Waldorf Astoria Hotel on September 25, 2013; "Caspian Forum 2013" held in Istanbul, Ciragan Palace on December 4-5, 2013; and "Caspian Forum Brussels 2014" held at the European Parliament on March 5, 2014.

Mr. Yavaş is married with three children.

Harun Öztürkler

Öztürkler was born in Kars, Turkey, on 28 January 1966. Öztürkler graduated from Gazi University, department of economics in 1986. He obtained his MA degree from Gazi University Social Science Institute in 1989. His thesis is titled “Investment Incentives in Turkey”. Öztürkler received his Ph.D. from The American University (Washington, D.C, USA) in 2002. His dissertation is titled “The Monetary Transmission Mechanisms: An Empirical Application to the Turkish Economy”.

Öztürkler is an associate professor of economics and the chair of the department of econometrics at Kırıkkale University and Middle East Economies Adviser at Center for Middle Eastern Strategic Studies (ORSAM). He is also the vice-chair of Employment Research Association, and the editor of the Journal of Economics, Business, Politics and International Relations. Öztürkler coauthored two books, The Analysis of Current Account Deficits in Turkey (2007) and The Effects of Custom Union on Turkey’s External Trade (2008). Öztürkler has numerous articles published in refereed journals, has published book chapters and technical reports on economics and Middle East.

Huang Wei

Huang Wei (1976.5-), Senior Research Fellow, supervisor of postgraduate, director of department of Global Governance, executive director of Centre for International Economic and Strategic Studies, Institute of World Economics and Politics, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences(CASS); International Financial Issues Advisor for Department of International Affairs, Ministry of Finance; Deputy Secretary General for China Society of Emerging Economies; Research fellow for YUFE Research Institute for Indian Ocean Economies. She got her Ph.D. degree in Financial Engineering from Beihang University (previously known as Beijing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics) in 2009. Before she joined CASS, she had 5 years working experience as Lecture in Wuhan University of Science and Technology. She was the visiting scholar for Hong Kong Institute for Monetary Research (2009), University of Western Ontario (2010), Hitotsubashi University (2010) and Bruegel (2014). Her recent research involves three fields: 1) Global economic governance. She is focusing on the economic cooperation on the important platform such as G20, BRICS and other multilateral cooperation forum. She provides research support on emerging economies for some international organization, such as Boao forum for Asia. 2) International finance, especially on the issue of medium and long term exchange rate regime, international monetary system and financial structure comparison; 3) other fields: The study of Global Value Chains based on ICIO tables, IO reform, etc.

Publications in 2014:

Huang, W. Exchange Rate Regimes and International Monetary System[M]. Beijing: Social Sciences Academic Press, 2014, Oct. ISBN 978-7-5097-6320-9.

Jin, Z. et al. China and G20 – High-end Gaming in Global Economic Governance[M]. Beijing: China Economic Publishing House, 2014, April, ISBN 978-7-5136-3148-8.

Chinese Academy of Social Science, The G20 and BRICS Finance and Economic Cooperation Important Document Collection[T]. Beijing: China Financial Publishing House, 2014, Aug., ISBN 978-7-5049-7503-4.

Huang, W. G20 Summit Helps for Economic Growth and Recovery[J]. Outlook Weekly, 2014, Vol.46.

Huang, W. Gao, B. The Construction of Multilateral Development Banks Leading by Emerging Economies[J], Journal of Development-Oriented Finance Research, 2014, No.4.

Huang, W. A Review on the BRICS cooperation—Basis, Impetus, and Development[J]. International Economic and Trade Research, 2014, No.12.

Ren, L., Huang, W.

Huang, W. The New Development on Global Economic Governance: Development-Oriented Finance Construction under the Emerging Economies[J]. Contemporary World, 2014, No.12.

Fan, M., Huang, W. A study in the evolution of China's trade structure according to the GVC decomposition[J]. World Economy, 2014, No.2, 50-70.

Igor A. Makarov

Associate professor at the department of world economy of National Research University Higher School of Economics (HSE), Moscow, Russia (since 2014), research fellow at the Center for Comprehensive European and International Studies of HSE (since 2010), Academic supervisor of the bachelor education program “World Economy” at HSE (since 2014).

PhD in Economics (HSE, Moscow). His research interests cover international economics, environmental economics and Asia-Russia relations.

Jeffrey D. Anderson

Jeffrey Anderson, now an independent consultant, was with the Institute of International Finance from 1984 to 2014. He was Senior Director for European Affairs from 2012 and Director of its European department from 1992 to 2012. His expertise is in macroeconomic policy assessment, country and sovereign risk analysis, external payments and debt and banking. He was coauthor in 2013 of an important study done with Bain & Company entitled Restoring Growth and Financing to Europe's SMEs. He has worked extensively since 1992 on emerging Europe, including Russia, Turkey and the EU member states that have acceded since 2004. Since 2010, he has focused intensively on the European financial crisis, especially on Greece, Portugal, Ireland, Spain and Italy.

John J. Kirton

John J. Kirton is a professor of political science and the co-director of the G20 Research Group, the Global Health Diplomacy Program and the BRICS Research Group, and director of the G8 Research Group, all based at Trinity College at the Munk School of Global Affairs at the University of Toronto, and a Non-Resident Senior Fellow at the Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies in Renmin University of China. He is the author of G20 Governance for a Globalized World (2012). He holds a PhD in International Affairs from the Paul H. Nitzke School of International Studies at Johns Hopkins University and a MA in International Affairs from the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs at Carleton University.

Lan Xue

Dr. Lan Xue is a Cheung Kong Chair Professor and Dean of School of Public Policy and Management at Tsinghua University. With a Ph. D in public policy from Carnegie Mellon University, he taught at the George Washington University before returning back to China in 1996. His teaching and research interests include innovation policy, crisis management and global governance. He has published widely in these areas.

He also serves as an adjunct professor at Carnegie Mellon University and a Non-Resident Senior Fellow of Brookings Institution. His many public service appointments include a member of the Expert Committee on Emergency Management of the State Council of China, Vice President of China Association of Public Administration, a member of the Visiting Committee for Harvard Kennedy School, and a member of the advisory board of OECD on Science, Technology, and Industry. Since 2012, he has been the Co-Chair of the Leadership Council of the UN Sustainable Development Solution Network (UNSDSN). He is a recipient of the Fudan Distinguished Contribution Award for Management Science.

Liudmila Filippova

Ms. Liudmila Filippova graduated from the Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University) with a BA degree in Political Science. She holds an MSc degree in Global Finance from the Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration (RANEPA). Her master's dissertation drew heavily on empirical research on the relationship between political events and stock performance of public companies.

Liudmila Filippova is the Programs manager at the Russian International Affairs Council (RIAC). She joined RIAC in 2011 when the Council started operating, and now coordinates RIAC efforts on the Arctic, Asia Pacific and Middle East programs. She is a copy editor of a few specialized RIAC reports and working papers, both in Russian and English.

Being a native speaker of Russian, she is highly proficient in spoken and written English and has a working knowledge of French.

Madeline Koch

Madeline Koch is the managing director of the G20 Research Group, the G8 Research Group, the BRICS Research Group and the Global Health Diplomacy Program, all based at the Munk School of Global Affairs at Trinity College in the University of Toronto. She is co-editor, with John Kirton, of the series of publications on the G20 and G8 produced by Newsdesk Media, most recently G20 — The Australia Summit: Brisbane and G7: The 2014 Brussels Summit. She has participated in the G8 and G20 Research Groups' field teams on site at every G8 summit since 1999 and every G20 one since 2008.

Malcolm D. Knight

Malcolm D. Knight is a CIGI Distinguished Fellow. He is also visiting professor of finance at the London School of Economics and Political Science, a trustee of the International Valuation Standards Council and a director of the Global Risk Institute in Financial Services. From 2008 to 2011, he was vice chairman of Deutsche Bank Group, responsible for developing a globally-coherent strategy and coordinating DB Group-wide issues on regulation, supervision and financial stability.

At CIGI, Dr. Knight's research will focus on the governance-related aspects of international financial regulation, standard-setting and international financial institutions.

Dr. Knight is a trustee of the International Valuation Standards Council and a director of the Global Risk Institute in Financial Services. From 2008 to 2011 he was vice chairman of Deutsche Bank Group, responsible for developing a globally-coherent strategy and coordinating DB Group-wide issues on regulation, supervision and financial stability.

Dr. Knight served as general manager and chief executive officer of the Bank for International Settlements during 2003-2008. From 1999 to 2003, he was Senior Deputy Governor of the Bank of Canada, where he was the Bank's chief operating officer and a member of the Board of Directors. From 1975 to 1999 Dr. Knight was with the IMF, where he held senior positions in both research and operations. From 1971 to 1975 he taught at the University of Toronto and the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Dr. Knight holds an Honours B.A. in Political Science and Economics from the University of Toronto, and M.Sc. (Econ) and Ph.D. degrees in economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science. He has published widely in the fields of macroeconomics, international finance and banking, and financial regulation.

Dr. Knight served as a trustee of the International Accounting Standards Committee Foundation over 2003-07, and as a member of the Financial Stability Forum (now the Financial Stability Board) during 2003-08. He is a member of the International Advisory Council of the Risk Management Institute of the University of Singapore, a trustee of the Per Jacobsson Foundation, and a member of the Honourary Senate of the Lindau Nobel Prizewinners Foundation. In 2006 he was awarded an Honourary Doctorate by Trinity College, University of Toronto.

Manuel F. Montes

Manuel F. Montes is Senior Advisor on Finance and Development at the South Centre in Geneva. He was previously Chief of Development Strategies, United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UNDESA) where he led the team that produced the World Economic and Social Survey (WESS). Before that, he was Chief of Policy Analysis and Development in the UN's Financing for Development Office; UNDP Regional Programme Coordinator, Asia Pacific Trade and Investment Initiative based at the Regional Centre in Colombo, Sri Lanka; Programme Officer for International Economic Policy at the Ford Foundation in New York, 1999-2005; Senior Fellow and Coordinator for Economics Studies at the East-West Centre in Honolulu, 1989-1999; and Associate Professor of Economics at the University of The Philippines, 1981-1989. He has held visiting positions at the United Nations World Institute for Development Economics Research (UNU/WIDER) in Helsinki, the Institute for Southeast Asian Studies (ISEAS) in Singapore, and the Institute of Developing Economies (IDE) in Tokyo. His recent publications have been in areas of macroeconomic policy, development strategy, income inequality, climate change financing and industrial policy. His most recent research papers are "Obstacles to Development in the International Economic System," July 2014 and Retooling Development and Global Economic Governance (Bloomsbury Press, 2014). He holds a PhD in Economics from Stanford University.

Marc Uzan

Marc Uzan is the Executive Director and founder of the Reinventing Bretton Woods Committee a not-for profit organization established in 1994 that focuses on addressing issues related to the international financial architecture. Mr. Uzan works closely with central banks and ministries of finance around the world, as well as the chairpersons of the G20 and also Adviser for numerous organizations that have asked him to organize high-level conferences. He has edited numerous volumes on international finance and he also authored academic papers on the new architecture for the international financial system.. Mr. Uzan holds Master Degree in International Economics and Finance from the Université de Paris IX Dauphine and had been visiting scholar at the Department of Economics of the University of California, Berkeley and visiting fellow at Harvard University.

Marilou Uy

Marilou Uy is Director of the Intergovernmental Group of Twenty-Four on International Monetary Affairs and Development (G-24). The G24 was established in 1971 as a representative body of Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors of developing countries with the objective of helping to articulate and support the position of developing countries in the discussions of the IMF, World Bank and other relevant fora. Prior to that, she was the Senior Adviser to the Managing Director at the World Bank. While at the World Bank, she also served as Sector Director for the Africa Financial and Private Sector Development Department from 2007 to 2011 and Director of the Financial Sector Operations and Policy Department in the Financial Sector Vice-Presidency as well as Chair of the Financial Sector Board from 2002 to 2007. Since joining the World Bank in 1985 as part of the Young Professionals Program, she has worked on financial sector and private sector development in Latin America, Middle East, South Asia, and Africa, and globally. She was also part of the Development Economics Group's research team that prepared "The East Asian Miracle" in 1991, in which she focused on financial sector issues, together with Joseph Stiglitz. Ms. Uy pursued her graduate studies in economics and finance at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Matthew P. Goodman

Matthew P. Goodman is senior adviser for Asian economics and holds the William E. Simon Chair in Political Economy at CSIS. The Simon Chair explores current issues in international economic policy, with a focus on the Asia-Pacific region. Before joining CSIS in early 2012, Goodman was White House coordinator for Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) and the East Asia Summit. He also served as director for international economics on the National Security Council staff, helping the President prepare for G-20 and G-8 summits. Prior to the White House, Goodman was senior advisor to the under secretary for economic, energy, and agricultural affairs at the U.S. Department of State.

Goodman has extensive experience in both the public and private sectors. Before joining the Obama administration in 2009, he worked for five years at Albright Stonebridge Group, a global business advisory firm based in Washington, D.C., where he was managing director for Asia. From 2002 to 2004, he served at the White House as director for Asian economic affairs on the National Security Council staff. Prior to that, he spent five years at Goldman, Sachs & Co., heading the investment bank's government affairs operations in Tokyo and London. From 1988 to 1997, he worked as an international economist at the U.S. Treasury Department, including five years as financial attaché at the U.S. embassy in Tokyo.

Goodman holds an M.A. in international relations from the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) and a B.S. in economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). He is a life member of the Council on Foreign Relations and serves as chairman of the board of trustees of the Japan-America Society of Washington.

Mehmet Arda

Retired Head of the Commodities Branch at UNCTAD where he worked for 25 years, he was Professor of International Relations and Economics at Galatasaray University, Istanbul (2007-2013). Currently he is active in the Centre for Economics and Foreign Policy Studies (EDAM) and Global Relations Forum (GIF). He is a founding member of SenDeGel, a civil society organization providing development assistance to Least Developed Countries. Occasionally he undertakes consultancy work for the United Nations and the Turkish Government. He has a BA in Economics from Dartmouth College, and a Ph.D in Economics from the University of California, Berkeley.

His interest in commodity issues continues and his current research focuses on the governance of globalization, international trade and the process of development in a globalized world; multilateral and regional trade agreements; Least Developed Countries; South-South economic relations and development cooperation; international value chains; natural resource management.

Dr. Mehmet Sait AKMAN

Mr. Mehmet Sait Akman is an academician focusing on international trade and European Union studies at Marmara University EU Studies Institute in Istanbul, Turkey. He also serves as senior research fellow in Centre for Multilateral Trade Studies at Turkish Economic Policy Research Institute (TEPAV), a leading public policy think-tank in Ankara, Turkey.

Mr. Akman holds Doctoral Degree in Economics of the European Union from Marmara University, Istanbul; and Master of Laws degree (LL.M) in 'EU and Economic Law' from London School of Economics. He has been visiting researcher at European University Institute, Florence and London School of Economics, London.

He was a participant to several academic meetings held by the World Trade Organization (WTO), and is serving as academic consultant to WTO/ITTC training activities for public officers from Central Asia, Caucasus, and Central and Eastern Europe (CEEAC) region.

He is the co-editor WTO Doha Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations and Turkey (in Turkish), TEPAV Publ. ;Catalyst? TTIP's Impact on the Rest (with P.Low and S.Evenett), CEPR, 2015; The EU's Expanding Trade Policy: Challenges for EU-Turkey Customs Union (with C.Balkir and J.Orbie –to be published).

Melih Gezer

Melih Gezer joined “NOVUSENS Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute” as a Co-Founder on 1st of October 2014. He is an information technology professional with over 30 years of professional experience in the high-tech industry both at local and international platforms. He was responsible for developing strategies, implementing and managing programs on K12 / higher education, entrepreneurship, research and public policy issues together with government organizations, universities and NGOs when running “Corporate Affairs Manager” role in Intel Turkey for 9 years.

Melih joined Intel in 2006 as Country Education Manager and assumed responsibility in his current role in 2007. Prior to Intel, he worked in Turkey and Holland in the IT and Defense industries in various roles. Melih holds a BSc Degree in Computer Engineering from METU (Middle east Technical University) on 1985 and MBA degree from Bilkent University.

Memduh Karakullukçu

Memduh Karakullukçu is the Vice-Chairman and President of Global Relations Forum (GRF). He is also the Founding Partner of the Turkish online legal informatics initiative, kanunum.com. Previously, he has served as the senior advisor to the Chairwoman of Turkish Industry and Business Association (TÜSİAD) and as the Founding Managing Director of Istanbul's leading science park, Istanbul Technical University (İTÜ) ARI Teknokent, currently an innovation community of over one hundred technology companies. During his tenure at İTÜ, Mr. Karakullukçu was the senior advisor to the President, the coordinator of the Law, Technology and Policy graduate programme and the strategic advisor at the University's Center for Satellite Communications.

Mr. Karakullukçu has served as a member of the academic staff at the LSE and İTÜ. His earlier academic work includes research commissioned by the IMF and the World Bank on inflation dynamics, debt instruments and debt markets. His recent policy work at GRF includes global energy analysis, technology-related security issues, global economic/financial governance and the economic prospects of the MENA region. Earlier in his career, Mr. Karakullukçu worked as a specialist in structured finance in London and Istanbul. Mr. Karakullukçu received his B.S. in Electrical Engineering and in Economics at MIT, his MSc in Finance at the LSE and his J.D. at Columbia University. He is a member of the New York State Bar.

Prof.Dr. Mensur Akgün

Prof. Dr. Mensur Akgün is the Director of the Global Political Trends Center (GPoT) and the Chair of the Department of International Relations at Istanbul Kültür University, where he is a faculty member. He received his first bachelor's degree from Middle East Technical University in Ankara in international relations. He later earned another bachelor's degree in social anthropology, as well as a master's in political science, at the University of Oslo in Norway. He completed his doctoral studies at Boğaziçi University in Istanbul. In addition to his work at GPoT, from 2002 to 2009 he served as the director of the Foreign Policy Program at the Turkish Economic and Social Studies Foundation (TESEV), to which he is currently an adviser. Previously a columnist at the daily Referans, Prof. Dr. Akgün currently writes for the daily Star. He has numerous published works in the fields of international relations and Turkish foreign policy.

Mina Toksöz

Dr Mina Toksoz is an associate fellow in the International Economics Department at Chatham house. She is currently senior consultant economist to the Sovereign and Country Risk Analysis team at Lloyds Bank Group and was previously head of country risk at Standard Bank International. Dr Toksoz has a BA in Economics from Bosphorous University, and a D.Phil from Sussex University. She is the author of The Economist Guide to Country Risk published in 2014.

Prof. Dr. Murat Özgören

Murat Ozgoren, M.D. PhD., is Professor of Medicine. He is the vice-rector of Dokuz Eylul University. He is the national infrastructures representative of Turkish Research Council, TUBITAK for European Commission. Additionally he is the member European Strategic Forum on Research Infrastructures (ESFRI), already contributing to a number of strategic roadmapping documents on European research landscape. He has recently concluded his role as the chair of ESFRI Health and Food Strategy Working Group of Europe.

His research interests include multidisciplinary and translational studies in the cognitive science incorporating sleep, conscious states and pathological processes, applied brain biophysics, signal processing, information processing in the brain. His group has recently focused on the research and innovative approach on brain responsiveness in sleep and different conscious states. He is a faculty of Department of Biophysics, Faculty of Medicine, Dokuz Eylul University. He is a member of the Brain Dynamics Research Center and coordinates Sleep Dynamics Labs. He is part of the Industrial PhD program which is recently approved. He is the steering committee member of European University Association Council of Doctoral Education.

He has organized a number of congress and workshops on Brain biophysics, Sleep and Neuroscience areas, and supported 13th World Congress of Psychophysiology- The Olympics of the Brain in Istanbul. He has participated in the initiative of The US Turkey Advanced Study Institute on Global Healthcare Grand Challenges indicating the future prospects of brain research as well as neural engineering. He has organized congresses and workshops in the field of biomedical engineering on health applications. He is the author of "The Applied Brain Biophysics", Izmir. Additionally he has been one of the coordinators of Innovation in Izmir (biomedical theme) action called INOVIZ. He has organized the Turkish Japanese Sleep Forum highlighting research capacity in sleep and biorhythms. He has organized training series for Turkish Anesthesia Society on research and clinical applications. He is the working group chair of Turkish Sleep Medicine Society (TSMS) in Basic Sciences and also has delegated TSMS in international meetings of WSF, ASRS and etc.

He is the member of National Biophysical Society, National Biomedical Board, Turkish Sleep Medicine Society, a number of foundations, and vice chair of Asian Sleep Medicine Society.

He has participated into realizing and managing international research infrastructures (RAMIRI). He has hosted ESFRI BMS TWG and regional working group meetings. He has recently represented Europe in the field of Biomedical and Health Sciences at EU-US meeting with NSF (and NIH) directors (EU-US Bilat, Rome 2010) and chaired the Biological & Medical Sciences Session. Additionally he has co-chaired to the Australia EU meetings (Brussels, 2012) with ESFRI in the field of Biomedical Sciences. He is the R&D Committee chair of recently launched International Sleep Science & Technology Association (ISSTA). He is the associate editor in the journal of "Sleep and Biological Rhythms".

He has duty as vice-rector in charge of research, innovation and techno parks. He has coordinated national biomedical device invention strategy roadmaps. He has been actively involved in Health Innovation Initiative of Izmir, INOVIZ. He has recently launched the first Health Technopark project of Turkey, DEPARC-HEALTH. He has hosted ORPHEUS and EUA-CDE meetings. Finally he has initiated the International Health Technologies Accelerator- Biolzmir, a project for soft landing to Turkey in Health related technologies. Dr. Ozgoren has actively played role as a promoter of global innovation and international collaboration.

Nagesh Kumar

Dr Nagesh Kumar is Head, United Nations ESCAP South and South-West Asia Office, New Delhi. Previously, he was Director, Macroeconomic Policy and Development Division and Chief Economist of UNESCAP based at its headquarters in Bangkok.

Before joining ESCAP in 2009, Dr. Kumar was Director-General of the Research and Information System for Developing Countries (RIS), a New Delhi based public funded policy think-tank of the Government of India during 2002-09. He has also served on the faculty of the UNU-MERIT in Maastricht, the Netherlands (1993-1998).

Dr Kumar has served on the boards of the Export-Import Bank of India, the International Centre for Trade & Sustainable Development (ICTSD), Geneva; the South Asia Centre for Policy Studies (SACEPS), Kathmandu, among other institutions. He has served as consultant to the World Bank, ADB, UNCTAD, UNIDO, UN-DESA, the Commonwealth Secretariat, among others. He has chaired regional track-II study groups on trade in services in South Asia and on infrastructure development in East Asia.

A PhD from the Delhi School of Economics (1988), Dr Kumar is recipient of the Exim Bank of India's first International Trade Research Award (1989) and the Global Development Network's Research Medal (2000). Dr. Kumar has conducted extensive research on aspects of development economics especially its international dimensions, resulting in the publication of 19 books and over 100 peer-reviewed papers.

Natalia Speer

Natalia Speer is Senior Advisor for the Director of the Intergovernmental Group of Twenty-Four on International Monetary Affairs and Development (G-24). The G24 was established in 1971 as a representative body of Finance Ministers and Central Bank Governors of developing countries with the objective of helping to articulate and support the position of developing countries in the discussions of the IMF, World Bank and other relevant fora. Prior to that, she was the Senior Advisor to the Executive Director at the World Bank Group representing Brazil, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Haiti, Panama, the Philippines, Suriname, and Trinidad and Tobago. In that capacity, some of her responsibilities included advising the Executive Director on positions and key policy issues under consideration at the Board of Executive Directors, including strategic directions, institutional positions, and operational policies, among others. Ms. Speer holds undergraduate and Master degrees in economics respectively from the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (Brazil) and the Fluminense Federal University (Brazil), and is currently working on her dissertation for her Interdisciplinary Ph.D on economics and social sciences at the University of Missouri – Kansas City (USA).

Nikola Jovanović

Mr. Nikola Jovanović is Program Director of the Center for International Relations and Sustainable Development (CIRSD), Deputy Editor of Horizons, and member of the Columbia University Earth Institute–UN SDSN Advisory Group on International Relations.

He served as Spokesperson and Advisor to the President of the sixty-seventh session of the UN General Assembly. He was previously Special Advisor to Serbia's Foreign Minister. Prior to that, he worked in the Serbian Government's European Integration Office and was a consultant to the Ministry of Finance.

He was Editor-in-Chief of Belgrade's Journal of European Integration. Mr. Jovanović is a columnist for the oldest newspaper in Serbia, Politika.

He holds a law degree from the University of Belgrade and a master's degree from the College of Europe in Bruges/Warsaw.

Paola Subacchi

Paola Subacchi is the Director of International Economics Research at Chatham House (The Royal Institute of International Affairs) in London. She is an expert on the functioning and governance of the international financial and monetary systems, and has written extensively in peer-reviewed journals and current affairs publications. She advises governments, international organizations, non-profits, and corporations. Dr Subacchi speaks at conferences and high-profile events around the world and is a regular media commentator with the BBC, CCTV, Project Syndicate, Foreign Policy, the Financial Times and the Huffington Post Italy. She is a board member of Scottish Mortgage Investment Trust Plc, a governor of St Marylebone School in London and an advisory member of Wilton Park. An Italian national, she studied at Università Bocconi in Milan and at the University of Oxford.

Paolo Magri

Paolo Magri is Executive Vice President and Director of ISPI (the Italian Institute for International Political Studies), founded in Milan 80 years ago.

He is also Secretary-Treasurer of the Italian Group of the Tri-lateral Commission;; Professor of International Organizations at Pavia University; Member of the Scientific Committee of Fondazione Dell'Amore (microfinance), the Steering Committee of Fondazione Italia-Russia and of the Advisory Board of Centrimark (Catholic University of Sacred Heart).

In his capacity of foreign policy analyst, he is often invited to various tv and radio programmes (Sky, Cnbc, Rai, Svizzera Italiana, Rai GR Nazionale, Radio 24). His fields of expertise pertains to BRICs, global governance, transatlantic relations and MENA.

Pelin Yenigün Dilek

Pelin Yenigun Dilek obtained her bachelors degree in Economics from Bosphorus University, Istanbul in 1995, followed by a M.A. in Development Economics from University of Kent in Canterbury, U.K. She worked as an economist in Industrial Development Bank of Turkey and Global Securities between 1997-2003. In 2004, she obtained another masters degree from Leuven University, Belgium on International Business Economics. She worked in Garanti Bank, Istanbul as the chief economist until 2013.

Pelin is the founder of LongViewTurkey.com, an online platform dedicated to discussions on Turkey's long-term macroeconomic development. She is also one of the founding partners of Sustineo Istanbul, which is a social entrepreneurship on environmental, social and corporate governance sustainability to mobilize and support business world, policy makers and communities.

pelinyen@yahoo.com, pelin@longviewturkey.com

Rahel Kassahun

Dr. Rahel Kassahun is the Executive Director of Coalition for Dialogue on Africa (CoDA), a pan-African think tank based in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. Through a dynamic and interactive process that involves, (i) high level discussions, (ii) mobilizing the most relevant actors in order to address specific recommendations, and (iii) development of corrective actions that will deliver positive changes, CoDA aims to play a strong advocacy role to translate policies and initiatives into concrete action and results to underpin Africa's transformation. CoDA is an initiative of the African Development Bank, the African Union and UN Economic Commission for Africa (ECA).

Ms. Kassahun is the Founder of Africa Unbound Inc., an international civil society organization building a network of young Africans who see themselves as agents of change. Prior to founding Africa Unbound, she worked for the World Bank in Washington D.C. in the Africa Region (2002-2010). She has also worked as a consultant for the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) in New York and taught at University of California, Riverside (1996-2000). A native Ethiopian, Ms. Kassahun holds a Ph. D. in Economics from University of California, Riverside.

Rahu Gurbanova

Rahu Gurbanova is an Advisor, Section of the Works with Youth Organizations, Socio-Political Issues Department, Administration of the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan and senior expert in Youth and NGO sector. Moreover, she has certain experience in international and public affairs which she gained working as international coordinator at New Azerbaijan Party (Ruling party in Azerbaijan). She holds her Bachelor degree in German Language and Master Degree in German Language in Policy with distinctions from Baku State University where she worked as English and German language instructor. She is fluent in English and German.

Ram Upendra Das

Dr. Ram Upendra Das is Professor at the Research and Information System for Developing Countries (RIS), New Delhi. He is also an Honorary Fellow, Academy for World Watch, Shanghai, China; Honorary Professor, New Delhi Institute of Management and Member, Academic Advisory Council, Birla Institute of Management and Technology. His broad areas of specialisation include international economics and development policy.

With over 25 years of research experience, Dr. Das has contributed to various studies, including inter-governmental Joint Study Groups (JSGs), and international negotiating processes on behalf of Government of India in the context of India's economic engagements with other countries. He has also represented India in the Track II study group of the CE-PEA under the East Asia Summit process. He contributed to the drafting of the SAFTA Treaty and SAARC Agreement on Trade in Services (SATIS) for the SAARC Secretariat. Additionally, he has also contributed to resolving complex issues during the India-ASEAN trade negotiations.

He was invited as a state guest by the US Department of State under the IVLP; and the Government of Indonesia under the Presidential Friends of Indonesia programme, and received a Certificate of Appreciation from the Government of Maldives. He has conducted and supervised a number of studies for various institutions including the ADB, Commonwealth Secretariat, ILO, Exim Bank of India, SAARC Secretariat, UNDP, UNESCAP and the World Bank. He has numerous publications to his credit on issues relating to international economics and development, including entries in peer-reviewed journals and books. The most recent books include Perspectives on Rules of Origin, Palgrave-Macmillan: UK (2011); Regional Trade and Economic Integration, World Scientific: Singapore and New Jersey (2012) and Meaning of Indian Economic Dynamism for the East Asian Economic Integration Process, ERIA: Jakarta (2014).

Dr. Das obtained his Ph.D. and M.Phil degrees in Economics from the Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi.

Renato Baumann

As per short bio, I am DPhil in Economics by Oxford University, Director of the International Unit of IPEA (Brazilian Government Think Tank), professor of Economics at Universidade de Brasília as well as at the Brazilian Diplomatic Academy and have been between 1994 and 2010 Director, UN/ECLAC Office in Brasília.

Richard Edward Baldwin

Richard Edward Baldwin is Professor of International Economics at the Graduate Institute, Geneva since 1991, a part-time visiting research professor at the University of Oxford since 2012, Director of CEPR since 2014, and Editor-in-Chief of Vox since he founded it in June 2007.

He served in the Bush (senior) White House (1990-1991) following US trade negotiations and disputes as a Senior Staff Economist for the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

The author of numerous books and articles, his research interests include international trade, globalisation, regionalism, and European integration. He has advised numerous governments and international organisations on issues of regionalism, globalisation and European integration. He did his PhD at MIT under guidance of Paul Krugman, an M.Sc. from LSE, a B.Sc. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and three honorary doctorates (Turku School of Economics and Business 2005, University of St. Gallen 2012 and Universidad Pontificia of Lima 2014)

Richard Manning

Richard Manning is Chair of the Board of the International Initiative for Impact Evaluation, and a Senior Fellow at the Blavatnik School of Government at Oxford University, where his current projects include work on finance for infrastructure in Africa and the economic and fiscal implications of HIV in Africa. He also Chairs an Advisory Council at the Institute of Development Studies on Rising Powers in International Development.

Richard served in the Department for International Development and its predecessors from 1965-2003 (Director-General 1996-2003). His assignments included postings to Lagos and Bangkok, to the UK Permanent Representation to the EU during the negotiations of the first Lomé Convention, and as Alternate Executive Director of the World Bank. From June 2003 to January 2008, Richard was Chair of the OECD's Development Assistance Committee.

In 2013, Richard was also involved in two major international funding exercises, as Vice-Chair of the Replenishment of the Global Fund for AIDS, TB and Malaria, and as Co-ordinator of the Replenishment of the African Development Fund. He published in September 2014 a Working Paper for UNU/WIDER on the lessons of these replenishments and that of IDA.

Samantha St. Amand

Samantha St. Amand is a CIGI research associate in the Global Economy Program. She has a B.A (honours) in economics from Wilfrid Laurier University and an M.A. in economics from the University of Waterloo. Samantha's current research focuses on the political economy of central banking, the international implications of unconventional monetary policy, global growth and fiscal sustainability.

Sergey Drobyshevskiy

Academic Director of the Gaidar Institute for Economic Policy (Moscow, Russia) and Head of Macroeconomic Research Centre at the Russian Academy for National Economy and Public Service under the President of the Russian Federation, Doctor of Economics. Since November 2012 –Managing Director of the Russia's G20 Expert Council.

Graduated from the Higher School of Economics (Moscow) and Erasmus University (Rotterdam). In 1996 Sergey Drobyshevsky joined the Institute for Economy in Transition (since June 2010 – Gaidar Institute for Economic Policy) and worked in the Department of Monetary Policy. In 2000-2002 – expert at the Russian-European Centre for Economic Policy. In 2006 got a Ph.D. degree in Economics from the Université P.-M. France (Grenoble, France).

The main sphere of professional interests: macroeconomics, monetary policy, financial institutions and financial markets, economic forecasting.

Author of 20 monographs and books published in Russia and abroad, more than 100 research papers and articles.

Member of the Expert Council under Government Commission on Economic Development and Integration, Member of the Public Council under the Ministry of Finance, Member of the Monetary Policy Council under the Association of Russian Regional Banks.

Seyeon Jang

(Research Associate at Center for Regulatory Studies, KDI)

M.S. Seoul National University, Major in Finance

Attended Think20 Meeting in Sydney, Australia, Dec. 2013

Dr. Shamshad Akhtar

In December 2013, Shamshad Akhtar was appointed by the UN Secretary-General as United Nations Under-Secretary-General and Executive Secretary of the Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific. She also serves as UN Sherpa for the G20.

Previously the Secretary-General's Senior Advisor on Economics and Finance, as well as Assistant Secretary-General for Economic Development, she served as Governor of the Central Bank of Pakistan from 2006 to 2009; Vice President of the World Bank's Middle East and North Africa Region; and held a range of senior posts in the Asian Development Bank, including that of Director-General (South-East Asia region).

Ms. Akhtar was a post-doctoral US Fulbright Fellow at Harvard University, holds a PhD in Economics from the Paisley College of Technology, a Master in Development Economics from the University of Sussex, and an MSc in Economics from Quaid-i-Azam University.

Sumru Altuğ

Sumru Altuğ (BA, MA in Economics, Pittsburgh 1978, 1980; Ph.D in Economics, Carnegie-Mellon, 1985) is currently a Professor at Koç University in Istanbul, Turkey. She previously held tenure-track and visiting assistant professor positions at Minnesota, Wisconsin, Duke and Virginia Tech in the U.S during 1984-1995. She also held Chaired Professorships at the University of Durham the University of York during 1999-2002. She is a Research Fellow at the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR) in London, U.K. and a member of the Euro Area Business Cycle Network (EABCN). She also served as panel member of the Economic and Social Research Council (ESRC) in the UK during 2001-2003 and an Associate Editor for the Economic Journal during 2000-2003. Prof. Altuğ is currently the Director for the TÜSİAD-Koç Economic Research Forum (ERF). Her research interests are in the areas of dynamic macroeconomic analysis, business cycles, productivity and growth, investment, and dynamic asset pricing.

Ş. Gökhan Çay

Deputy Secretary General, Caspian Strategy Institute

Gökhan Çay was born in Izmir in 1982. He received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Tianjin University of China. He worked as Export Manager of a private company.

He worked as Asia Pasific Regional Coordinator at Turkish Exporters Assembly from 2008 to 2012.

Gökhan Çay has been working at Caspian Strategy Institute since 2012 as Deputy Secretary General. He is also Editor in Chief of Hazar World Magazine.

Gökhan Çay speaks English, Chinese and Korean. He is married with one child.

Timur Makhmutov

Ph.D. in Political Science

Graduated from MGIMO-University. Started his carrier as lecturer at Political Theory Department of MGIMO. Published several articles and 2 books on political process in Russia, socio-economic influence on international cooperation with special attention to the processes of marginalization.

Since 2011 works with Russian International Affairs Council (RIAC) as Deputy Program Director. Member of RIAC Editors Group for reports and working papers.

Tristram Sainsbury

Tristram Sainsbury is a Research Fellow in the G20 Studies Centre at the Lowy Institute. Prior to joining the Institute, Tristram was at the Australian Treasury where he worked on G20 policy, focussing mainly on international financial architecture reform, financial regulation reform and G20 growth strategies. Prior to that he spent time in the Australian Treasury's revenue forecasting and environmental fiscal policy areas. He has also worked at the Crawford School at the Australian National University on behalf of the Australian Treasury. Tristram holds a Masters in Applied Economics from ANU and has completed undergraduate studies in Resource Economics at the University of Sydney.

Turab Gurbanov

Turab Gurbanov earned his Bachelor degree in Public Administration at Marmara University in 1999, his Master degree in International Relations in 2000 and his Doctorate degree in Political Sciences (International Relations) in 2005 at Paris-1 Pantheon-Sorbonne University. He is author of 6 books published in Paris and in Baku related to International Relations/Geopolitics. He speaks English, French, Turkish, Russian. Since 2005 He works at the Administration of the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan, as Senior advisor for foreign policy issues.

Ulf Sverdrup

(born 1968), is the Director of the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs (NUPI).

Sverdrup is also a professor at the Norwegian Business School (BI). He was the Head of the Secretariat for the Official Norwegian Europe Review (NOU 2012:2 “Outside and Inside”), which assessed the impacts and implications of Norway’s agreements with the EU. During his career Sverdrup has worked on various topics in international politics, with a particular emphasis on European integration and European politics.

Director Sverdrup was a researcher and research professor at the ARENA, Centre for European Studies, at the University of Oslo (2000-2008). Sverdrup holds a doctoral degree in Political Science from the University of Oslo and a Masters degree from the University of Bergen.

He has been a Jean Monnet fellow at the European University Institute, a Visiting scholar at the Mannheimer Zentrum für Europäische Sozialforschung, and he has also been a senior advisor in the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Director Ulf Sverdrup is a Norwegian citizen.

Ussal Şahbaz

TEPAV G20 Studies Center Director

As of November 2014, Ussal Sahbaz is appointed as the director of G20 Studies Center at the Economic Policy Research Foundation of Turkey (TEPAV), and independent think-tank in Ankara. At this capacity, he leads the content provision for Business 20 and Think Tank 20 outreach groups for Turkey's G20 presidency in 2015.

Since 2010, Ussal Sahbaz has managed programs on technology, entrepreneurship and foreign economic relations at TEPAV. Some of these activities include starting the Global Entrepreneurship Program Turkey, a program of the U.S. State Department; creating GARAJ Entrepreneurship Center, an accelerator program and a meeting space for the entrepreneurial community in Ankara. Ussal designed and executed the largest EU-financed program to foster bilateral business relations in the conflicting countries in the South Caucasus. He is also at the leadership of the entrepreneurship chapter of the Middle East Commercial Center, initiated by the U.S. Chambers in 2013.

Ussal Sahbaz graduated from Harvard Kennedy School with a master's degree in public administration and international development program in May 2010. He holds a BS degree from the Middle East Technical University (2003) and an MA from Bilkent University (2005), both in economics. He worked as a consultant to the World Bank in Washington D.C. and as a case officer at the Turkish Competition Authority.

Veronica Grondona

Veronica Grondona, is an Economist from Argentina (Universidad de Buenos Aires- UBA; 2000), with Postgraduate studies in Finance (Universidad Torcuato Di Tella; 2003) and in Cultural Heritage and Tourism (UNESCO, UNTreF, AAMNBA, 2010). Between 1998 and December 2001, Veronica worked for the Government Office in charge of Small and Medium Enterprises (SePyME) in Argentina; being the last 2 years engaged in a Program for Entrepreneurial Restructuring (PRE) financed by the Inter-American Development Bank. Between 2002 and mid 2007, Veronica worked in transfer pricing for PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) Buenos Aires initially, then in PwC Madrid and finally for Transfer Pricing Associates in Amsterdam. In 2011, Veronica worked as a consultant for the National Ministry of Tourism's Statistical Department. Veronica teaches Economics of Tourism at the National University of Lujan and Economics of Culture at the UBA; both for postgraduate careers. In 2014, Veronica wrote the following working paper: "Fuga de Capitales IV. Argentina 2014. La manipulación de los precios de transferencia" ("Capital Flight IV. The manipulation of transfer prices"), under the supervision of Jorge Gaggero, CEFID-AR Working Paper N°58, Buenos Aires, June 2014.

Vivan Sharan

Vivan Sharan is Chief Executive of the Global Governance Initiative at the Observer Research Foundation, India and a Partner at Koan Advisory Group, India. He has extensive experience in the policy space, having worked with various arms of the Indian Government on important policies and agendas. Vivan has written extensively on contemporary themes ranging from capital markets reform to climate change responses in global journals. He contributes regularly as an opinion writer to leading Indian newspapers including The Economic Times, Financial Express, The Hindu and The Global Times. Vivan has a Master's degree in Economics from the University of Edinburgh and Bachelor's degree in Mathematics from St. Stephens College, University of Delhi. In his free time, he indulges in developing an ambitious agro-industrial business.

Assoc.Prof.Dr. Vusal Gasimli

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Vusal Gasimli works as a Head of Department in the Center for Strategic Studies under the President of the Republic of Azerbaijan. He was president of “ANS-PRESS” Publishing House from 2005-2007 and expert in the European Union in 2009-2010.

He graduated Azerbaijan State Economic University and received his Master degree in Economics in 1997. He received his MA in journalism from the Georgian Institute of Public Affairs (based on the study program of Louisiana State University) in 2004. He received PhD on Economics in Baku in 2009.

Being a results-driven researcher with strong background in macro-economics, he focuses his studying on the economic development, competitiveness, modernization and agriculture. In recent years, he has hosted and participated in more than 20 academic research projects, published about 500 articles, wrote or co-authored 10 books.

Recent book of Dr.Gasimli entitled “Resource-rich countries: Modernization and Diversification” was printed by German Academic Publishing House in 2013.

Dr. Vusal Gasimli got the award of Astana Economic Forum for outstanding research achievements in 2012.

He worked as a guest scholar in Korea Institute for International Policy in 2013.

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Vusal Gasimli delivered lectures at prestigious universities such as Washington, California, Hanyan, Milan Catholic, Warsaw, Hankuk, Cairo, Rio de Janeiro etc.

He knows Azerbaijani, English, Russian, Spanish (elementary proficiency) and Turkish.

V. Alptekin Dinçerler

P&G Turkey, Commercial Leader for AfH. Born in Gaziantep, 1982. Bilkent University Industrial Engineering graduate, 2004. 10+ years experience in consumer packed goods industry in sales management and trade marketing. Areas of interest: venture capital & entrepreneurship. Married, fluency in English.

Wonhyuk Lim

Wonhyuk Lim is Professor at the KDI School of Public Policy. He also has a joint appointment at the Korea Development Institute (KDI) and serves as Executive Director of the Center for Regulatory Studies and Director of the Department of Competition Policy. Since he joined KDI in 1996, his research has focused on state-owned enterprises and family-based business groups (chaebol). He has also written extensively on development issues, in conjunction with policy consultation projects under Korea's Knowledge Sharing Program (KSP). He received a Presidential order from the Dominican Republic for his work. After the 2002 Presidential Election in Korea, he worked for the Presidential Transition Committee and the Presidential Committee on Northeast Asia and helped to set policy directions for the restructuring of the electricity and gas sector and for Northeast Asian energy cooperation. Dr. Lim was also at Brookings as a CNAPS Fellow for 2005-06, and worked as a consultant for the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI). In 2010, he helped to formulate the G20 Seoul Development Consensus for Shared Growth. His recent publications include The Korean Economy: From a Miraculous Past to a Sustainable Future (Harvard, forthcoming, co-authored), Korea's Global Leadership (Kyobo, 2012, ed., in Korean), "Chaebol and Industrial Policy in Korea" (Asian Economic Policy Review, 2012), "Joint Discovery and Upgrading of Comparative Advantage: Lessons from Korea's Development Experience" (World Bank, 2011) and Global Leadership in Transition: Making the G20 More Effective and Responsive (Brookings and KDI, 2011, co-edited with Colin Bradford). He received a B.A.S. in Physics and History and a Ph.D. in Economics from Stanford University.

Yang Qingqing

Director of Research Cooperation Department & G20 Project, Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies at Renmin University of China (RDCY)

Miss Yang Qingqing is currently the Director of Research Cooperation Department & G20 Project at Chongyang Institute for Financial Studies, Renmin University of China (RDCY). She is also the member of Corporate Social Responsibility and Anti-corruption Commission at China Chamber of International Commerce (CCOIC). She holds the double bachelor degrees of Finance and French at Wuhan University in China, and Master “Grande Ecole” at Rouen School of Management, Normandy in France. She worked previously at Societe Generale Corporate & Investment Banking as Credit Analyst of Structured Finance and Equity Derivatives in Paris. She focuses on the G20 research and related academic international exchange from 2013. She has organized twice the G20 Think Tank Summit at Renmin University of China and attended the 2014 G20 Pre-summit conferences in Brisbane. She edited and translated the research report “Go Global: International Business Anti-Corruption Rules Research” with the ICC Executive Director Mme Zhang Yanling, and co-edited the books as “Who will govern the New World – The Present and Future of the G20”, “G20 Blue Book of G20 Think Tank 2014-2015”, “A Cup of Tea with Finance” etc.

Ye Yu

Dr. YE Yu is Associate Professor and Assistant Director of the Institute for World Economy Studies at Shanghai Institutes for International Studies (SIIS). Her research focuses on global economic governance and China's role. She is the author of a monograph in Chinese International Law Regulation on Oil Trade and Investment Measures and a number of academic papers on global economic governance, BRICS among others. She also led or participated in a variety of projects commissioned by Chinese Ministries, UNDP and other sources on China's role in the G20, World Bank and China-US economic relations, etc.. Dr. YE graduated from the Law School of Fudan University in 2007. She was a visiting fellow in Yale University (2005-2006), Centre for Energy, Petroleum and Mineral Law and Policy (CEPMLP) at the University of Dundee (2006), the Bush School of Government and Public Management at the Texas A&M University (2009), the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) (2012) and the Lowy Institute for International Policy (upcoming 2015).

Prof. Yong Wang

Yong Wang is Professor at School of International Studies, and the Director of the Center for International Political Economy, Peking University. He is also Professor at Party School of Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and Appointed Lecturer for the HKSAR Senior Civil Servants Training Program on Chinese Affairs at Peking University, and a former consultant of the Asia Development Bank (ADB). Member of the World Economic Forum (WEF) Global Agenda Council on Global Trade and FDI, Commissioner of the First Murdoch Commission (on Australia and Asian regional integration), Member of the Evian Group@IMD's Brains Trust, and the Member of Board of Directors at Center for Regional Security Studies at Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. He is the Selected Member, Ministry of Education New Century Outstanding Talents Support Program, 2008. He is on the editorial board of the Journal of Global Asia, the Journal of Global Governance, the Journal of Human Security and the Journal of International Studies Review.

Yong Wang received his B.A.(1987), M.A.(1990), and PhD(1996) from Peking University. He joined the faculty of Peking University School of International Studies in 1990. He studied at the Nanjing Center of the School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), the Johns Hopkins University, 1988-1989. He was a visiting scholar at University of California San Diego, 1994-1995; a joint visiting fellow at Pacific Council on International Policy (PCIP) and University of Southern California, 1999; and a visiting scholar at National Chengchi University, Taiwan (July-August 2002), Indiana University Bloomington (July 2011), the Waterloo Canada-based Center for International Governance Innovation (CIGI, August 2011), the University of Sheffield (June-July 2014) and the University of British Columbia (August-September 2014).

His major authored books include International Political Economy and China (co-edited with Greg Chin and Margaret Pearson, 2015), the Political Economy of International Trade (2008); the Political Economy of China-U.S. Trade Relations (2007), the Rounds of Most Favored Nations: the Politics of US-China Trade Relations, 1989-1997 (1998); Knowledge Economy: Cases and Prospects (editor, 1998), and American Politics and Making of Foreign Policy (co-authored, 2007). His recent articles appear in the journals of Review of International Political Economy, Oxford Review of Economic Policy, Global Asia, China Security, and International Politics Quarterly (Chinese) and Asian Survey.

He has published numerous papers and book chapters in Chinese, English, Japanese and Spanish, on the topics of Chinese political economy, foreign policy, China-US relations, regional cooperation, international political economy, World Trade Organization (WTO) and global governance. His authored book--the Political Economy of China-US Trade Relations--was awarded the first prize for Excellent Social Sciences Works, by the Beijing Municipal Government and the Beijing Confederation of Social Scientists, 2008.

Wang Yong was invited to speak before or attend conferences organized by some international institutions, including Harvard University, Stanford University, University of California Los Angeles, Tokyo University, Waseda University and Keio University in Japan, ISEAD, US-China Business Council, French Institute of International Relations (Ifri), German Association of Industry and Commerce, Chatham House in UK, Japan Self-Defense Agency, Korea Ministry of Justice, Korean Academy of Korean Studies, Salzburg Seminar in Austria, the Marcelino Botin Foundation of Spain, the Bahrain Global Forum, WTO, World Economic Forum and Think20 (under G20 Russian and Australian Presidency). His opinion or comments has appeared in medias such as CNN, BBC, New York Times, China Central Television Station (CCTV) and so on. He was a speaker at Think20 meetings under the Russian and Australian G20 presidency.

Yoo Duk

Dr. Yoo-Duk Kang is head of Europe team and research fellow of the KIEP since 2009. He received Master degree in International Trade and Ph.D in Economics from Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). Before joining the KIEP, he worked at Group d'Economie Mondiale (GEM), Paris based research think tank on international trade policy.

He has pursued double career as researcher and adjunct professor. Trained as a trade economist, his main research interest is FTA (free trade agreement) and economic integration. Particularly, he has deep interest on comparative studies on economic integration since his Ph. D thesis in this area. As an economist responsible for European studies at the KIEP, he wrote more than 50 papers on European economies during the euro crisis and disseminated most updated and analytical information to Korean research society. As a adjunct professor, he taught at several prestigious graduate school in Korea on European economies and development issues. Currently, he is adjunct professor at Hankuk University of Foreign Studies.

Mr. Yoo-Duk Kang is married and has one son. He is fluent in Korean, English and French.

Yusuf Işık

Education: Yusuf Işık obtained his Baccalauréat from the European School in Brussels, his B. Sc. Degree in Economics from the London School of Economics and a Master's degree in the same field from the University of Birmingham.

Career: He worked as Research and Education Director at a Turkish Trade Union (Petrol-İş) and as Project Director at a private research company (ESDA). He was employed as expert and then Head of the Strategic Research Department at the State Planning Organisation (SPO) of Turkey. During his period of office at the SPO he participated to the UN Social Summit in Copenhagen in 1995 as member of the Turkish delegation and to the related preparatory work and meetings; in 1996 he also served as Vice-Chairman of OECD's Employment and Social Affairs Committee.

He has been teaching economics at METU, Ankara on a part time basis during 1994-95 and 1998-2000. In 2002-2005 he was adviser to Kemal Derviş during the latter's term of Office as Minister for the Economy and then M.P. He then returned to the State Planning Organisation. In December 2011 he started to work as Adviser to the Vice Presidency for Economic and Financial Policy of the Republican People's Party (CHP) Since December 2012 he is Adviser to CHP's President.

Areas of Professional Interest and Selected Published Work :

His main areas of professional interest and work are: Macroeconomic policies, social development, the Knowledge Economy and contemporary social democracy. He also has a particular interest for governance matters. His more recent pieces of work include: Three co-authored articles on selected critical aspects of "Turkey's Economic Development in the EU Perspective" published by the Center for European Policy Studies (CEPS, Brussels), 2004; a book (in Turkish) co-authored with Kemal Derviş "Exit from the Crisis and Contemporary Social Democracy", 2006; a section on "The Knowledge Economy and the Turkish Economy's Development Prospects" in a book (in Turkish) titled "Knowledge" edited by H. Odabaşı and H. Anameriç, 2006; an article (in Turkish) titled "The Future of Science and Technology in Europe" published in the journal "The Knowledge Era", 2008; a series of articles on selected aspects of economic growth and sustainability published in "Social Europe", 2009-2011; articles on the economy and social democracy in "ReflectionsTurkey", 2012-2014; and in "Sosyal Demokrat Dergi", (the latter in Turkish), 2012-2014; his latest article is "G 20 and the Turkish Presidency's Perspective", published (in Turkish) in the Review "Bilge Strateji", Fall 2014.

Zeynep Güven

Prior to joining the U.S. Chamber of Commerce as an advisor based in Istanbul, Zeynep was a project manager at Turkish Coalition of America and project coordinator at Turkish Cultural Foundation concurrently, working on the U.S.-Turkey bilateral relationship through political, cultural and economic platforms. Zeynep has a B.A. in International Affairs and Public Communication at the George Washington University and a Master's in Public Policy Analysis at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Prof. Zhongyi Yin

Present position: Executive Vice President, Senior Research Fellow, China Institute for Reform and Development

Professional societies: Vice Chairman, Hainan Provincial Federation of Social Science Circles; Vice Chairman, Hainan Provincial Association of Translators.

Main areas of research specialization and interests:

Economic and Structural Reform; Institutional Mechanisms for Low Carbon Development; Rural Development and Rural Governance; Social Transformation and Social Harmony, Income Distribution and Sustainable Development.

www.t20turkey.org

tepav

The Economic Policy
Research Foundation of Turkey

TEPAV Building, Söğütözü Caddesi No.43
Söğütözü, Ankara 06560 TURKEY
P: +90 312 2925500
F: +90 312 2925555
www.tepav.org.tr

twitter.com/tepav
facebook.com/tepav
youtube.com/user/TheTepav